He has parental care and affection for all of us and he sees that we are proper in our behaviour and are progressing in our studies. We enjoy his teachings and he makes his classes very interesting by citing examples from day to day happenings and from books outside our courses. He stimulates us to make our activities greater. He is always loving and affectionate and never a tyrant or a hard hearted one. As regards his extracurricular activities he is ahead of others in our school. He is a fluent speaker and a good story writer. We are full of praise for his worthiness. The skill in teaching has made him a lovable teacher for us in the school.
